It's night time and you are with two friends in Edinburgh Castle.

The three of you move across the castle grounds as quickly and as quietly as you can. The sound of drums fades¹... The Vaults, Mike tells you, originated under the 19 arches of South Bridge. Today they make up a huge² network³ of tunnels.

Just then you hear it – footsteps. Loud, clicking footsteps, to be precise.

“Someone’s coming”, Keira says.

“Let’s get out of here”, you whisper⁴.
