There's a Rang-tan in my bedroom, p. 116

There's a Rang-tan in my bedroom and I don't know what to do.

She plays with all my teddies and keeps borrowing my shoe.

She destroys all of my houseplants and she keeps on shouting "ooo!"

She throws away my chocolate and she howls at my shampoo.

There's a Rang-tan in my bedroom and I don't want her to stay.

So I told the naughty Rang-tan that she had to go away.

Oh Rang-tan in my bedroom, just before you go...

Why were you in my bedroom? I really want to know.

There are humans in my forest and I don't know what to do.

They're burning it for palm oil so I thought I'd stay with you.

Oh Rang-tan in my bedroom now I do know what to do.

I'll fight to save your home and I'll stop you feeling blue.

Supermarket essentials will no longer be linked to illegal deforestation

Palm oil, cocoa, beef [...] are to be included in new legislation aimed at helping ensure¹ the products we buy do not harm the world's forests.

At COP28 Nature Day, the government will set out² how these new laws will ensure that there is no place on our supermarket shelves³ for products [...] linked to illegal deforestation.

This move will protect the habitats of some of the world's most precious and endangered species, including tigers and leopards. It will give British shoppers assurance that the goods they buy are not contributing to deforestation.
