Where we live

Ziggy and I both live in a bungalow in the parish<sup>1</sup> of Clarendon. We can see magnificent sunset views at Portland Ridge which is very close to our home.

My cousins, Kalisa and Omari, live in a gated<sup>2</sup> apartment complex in Kingston.

Granny and Pupa live in a small bungalow in the parish of St Elizabeth, where there is a lot of luscious greenery.

A day in the life of deep creek island school in the Bahamas, p. 18

7:45 am: Most students arrive on the bus. They sometimes come from far away.

8:00 am: The school day begins. Twice a week, on Mondays and Fridays, students begin with assembly<sup>1</sup>.

8:15 am – 10:00 am: Morning class block. Students have Math and English classes every day. They have science and social studies four times per week.

10:05 am: Snack. Students always take a break from classes to eat a snack and play.

10:30 am: Mid-morning class.

11:25 am: Quiet reading. Every day, at this time, the whole school pauses for reading.

11:50 am: Lunch/Recess<sup>2</sup>. Students usually have lunch with their teachers then run off to play games. After eating, the teachers often play with the students.

12:30 pm – 3:10 pm: Afternoon class block. Afternoons can be very different. Students sometimes have academic classes like English or science, but once or twice a week they have PE<sup>3</sup>, sailing or swimming or they can prepare their scuba-diving certificate.

3:15 pm: After-school clubs. Students can join a variety of different clubs and activities, like sports and choir<sup>4</sup>.

Évaluation de la compréhension de l'écrit, p. 29

I'm GILFORD. I live in a little blue house, on a little island, in the middle of a GREAT BIG sea. My house [...] has a big porch<sup>1</sup> with hammocks<sup>2</sup> and lots of space to play and chase my little brother around.

My island is a little swoop<sup>3</sup> of sand with fish and boats all around it. It is full of bright houses and pretty flowers and about a hundred coconut trees. [...]

As soon as<sup>4</sup> the sun wakes up, Alvis and I run into Mama and Pa's room. "The sun is up! We're AWAKE!" we shout.
